My classes and activities to prepare for life beyond graduation:

As I'm reaching the end of my time at St. Edward's, this semester my courses have more of a writing focus. In both Rhetorical Criticism and Writing for Advertising and Publicity, I've been challenged to look at situations and things differently and use my creativity to produce great work. I'm excited for this spring semester because I'll be taking Strategic Communication Campaigns, where I can apply a lot of what I've learned over my past four years. Most of my time this semester has been spent working for Raise Your Hand Texas as a Digital Communications Intern. RYHT is an amazing nonprofit organization that advocates for policy solutions to improve Texas public schools. As the daughter of a teacher, it's been incredibly rewarding to know that the work I do in Communication contributes to a cause and mission greater than myself. My courses and instructors at St. Edward's set me up with the skills and experience I needed to not only be selected for this internship, but to succeed in it. The skills I've gained in content creation, SEO, writing, and project management from both my work and school experiences are going to be vital to my success in my future career.

How I would like to thank my scholarship donor:

When I was applying for college in high school, one of my biggest fears and concerns was money and debt. I'm incredibly grateful for donors like Dr. Mitchell who help remove barriers to great education and alleviate financial stress. I'm so lucky to be where I am in my educational journey and scholarships like this make my journey possible. Thank you.
